

HANDS ACROSS THE WATER WAITING FAMILY

Luke and Logan

Thank you for taking the time to consider us as adoptive parents. We are incredibly grateful and humbled by the sacrifice you are making for the future of your little one. It's no small decision and certainly not an easy one, but one in which we hope we can help you find comfort. Please know that we do not want you to be just a footnote in our family's story or a mysterious figure in the background of our child's life—we want you to be a part of it.

As for us, we met in Ann Arbor in 2014—our first date was at a local brewery where the typically introverted Logan spent four hours talking Luke's ear off. Love was there for us from the moment we met and in the years that followed it has only grown stronger. We got married on a beautiful fall day in 2018 surrounded by family and friends. Today we live in a neighborhood in Ann Arbor near lots of parks and a short walk from downtown. We both like to cook, so you'll often find us trying out new recipes with varying levels of success. We also frequently visit friends and family in the area and drive back to our respective hometowns to spend weekends and holidays with family.

When we picture our future with a child, we look forward to books at bedtime and family trips. We want to help them navigate the world and figure out who they want to be—exploring their interests, trying new things and developing skills that can take them where they want to go. It's important to us that our kids learn to be kind, generous people who contribute in ways big and small to making the world a better place. Thank you again for considering us—we hope to have the opportunity to meet you sometime soon.
